

JACK B. CLARKE SR. | GOOD NEIGHBOR FRANCES BORELLA

Frances is a resident of the University Neighborhood. She teaches anthropology at Mt San Antonio College, is a gourmet bread and cake baker and a devoted gardener. For over 10 years, she has hosted a free vegetable table at each harvest.. All donations go back to support the Native American Student organization at the college. Frances and her husband also raise food for local wildlife, conduct bird surveys, and provide housing for students in need on their property. Their garden feeds over 20 families each Summer based on their guest book data.

This is an example of what an “agri-hood” can be like in Riverside
