

ATTN RIVERSIDE FRIENDS

After thoughtful consideration, I have decided to remain in Riverside and continue serving as your City Manager. Riverside is not just where I work—it is our home.

We have significant momentum right now in Riverside: from major economic development projects and infrastructure investments to public safety enhancements, housing initiatives, and the continued activation of our downtown and neighborhoods.

We are in the middle of public education about the June 2 vote on the revenue renewal of “Measure Z” with later work required navigating the outcome of that vote. Over the last three years we have put Riverside on the world stage with the international economic relationships we have built, attracting new businesses and good jobs.

I am staying to see these efforts through.

What makes this decision meaningful is our city employees, community partners, and residents who are doing extraordinary work every day.

Riverside is our home. Let us all work together to build upon this success.

Warm regards,
Mike Futrell and Susan Freeman
